CELEBRATE JULY FIRST HERE

Town Council Takes Matter Up And Appoints Dominion Day Celebration Committee—The Mining Institute Will Also Hold Demonstration in Coleman on the Same Date.

As was stated in these columns several months ago, there is to be a field day in Coleman on July 1st next under the auspices of the Crows Nest Pass Mining Institute, when several competitions in mine rescue work will be put on with teams from the various camps between Lethbridge and Fernie in competition.

Wishing to co-operate with the officers of the Mining Institute and add anything possible or desirable in the way of a supplementary programme of sports, the matter was brought up at the last meeting of the town council, and after due consideration it was decided to appoint a joint committee of aldermen and business men to prepare plans and make necessary arrangements for a sports program for Dominion Day, the committee to confer with and act in conjunction with those who have the mine rescue demonstration in charge.

The committee is composed of the mayor (ex officio), Aldermen Fraser and Reid, B. P. McEwen and R. L. Norman.

This committee met in the council chamber on Wednesday afternoon, when B. P. McEwen was elected president and R. L. Norman secretary. A tentative program was considered and discussed, and the committee will meet again in a few days and get its plans into a more definite shape.

On one point, however, the committee has very emphatically decided—whatever program is adopted, there will be no vexatious delays between events.

Watch The Bulletin for further particulars.

FRENCH AND BELGIANS TO HOLD BIG PICNIC

People of These Two Nationalities Throughout the Pass Plan Fitting Celebration at Frank on Victoria Day.

Frank, May 9.—The Patriotic organization is doing good work in Frank. It was organized the first of November, and since then has raised $1,490.00, eleven hundred of which has been paid out to the Patriotic Fund at Calgary, three hundred has been paid to the Red Cross Society at Frank, and the rest is in the treasury. This has been raised by individuals giving one per cent. of their wages, and nearly everyone in town is giving. If there should be anyone missed it is up to them to fall into line. It is a great satisfaction to feel that our little town, shot to pieces by prospective slides, and real financial slides, is still able to do its part for the country. And the above statement is not all that Frank has done in raising funds. We wonder if anyone lives around here and does not know that Frank raised the price of a machine gun—every cent of a thousand dollars—besides all the other

ONE OF COLEMAN'S NIGHT CLASSES MAKES BEST SHOWING IN PROVINCE

It is doubtful if a dozen persons, outside those directly interested, ever gave the night classes held here during the winter months more than a passing thought. But while these classes may not have played a very important part in our scheme of things as a community, yet one of them at least has been the means of bringing to Coleman an honor that is unique in more ways than one.

We refer to the results accomplished by Miss Purdy's class in arithmetic and mensuration. This class began the winter series with an enrolment of nine members, and the number soon dwindled to five. But that these five were faithful and applied themselves to the work in hand is amply demonstrated by the fact that they all passed their examinations at the conclusion of the series—and passed with a very creditable standing.

Furthermore, in all Alberta Miss Purdy's was the only class that was sufficiently advanced in its work to attempt the examinations, and the fact that such good progress was made must indeed be most gratifying to Miss Purdy as well as to her students.

things. This does not mean we have done all we ought to do, but it shows we are willing to do as much again.

Mrs. Samuel Wallace, whose husband is now in England with the 50th battalion, left on Monday night with her family for Westville, Nova Scotia.

The French and Belgian people of The Pass are arranging for a celebration on May 24th, the proceeds of which are to be given to the Red Cross funds. From what can be gathered they intend holding a picnic in some of nature's beauty spots near Frank, where a program of sports, etc., will be arranged. The 24th is a holiday and everybody should turn out and help make this day a success.

The board of the Methodist church met in the church on Monday evening to discuss the removal of the church to a more central site. It was decided to dismantle the old building, or to sell it as it stood to be pulled down for lumber, also the old parsonage and barn, and to secure a new site at once. It was also decided that for the present they would not build a church, but a useful hall instead. This is one of the needs of the community. It is to be called "The Church Hall," and will be erected at once.

The mine has not been working for a few days owing to the water getting the best of them. A lecture was delivered in the Methodist church last Saturday evening, when Mr. A. E. Ottowell, M. A. of the University of Alberta, delivered his lecture on Shakespeare. One hundred pictures dealing with Macbeth and the Merchant of Venice were thrown on the screen. A good attendance turned out even though it was snowing like the middle of winter.

Word has been received from Ottawa that the fund which was set apart for the removal of buildings from the danger zone to safe places, is being withdrawn. No more cheques will be paid out of it after the end of this month.

Those who have impediments in paying taxes should remember that at the last ratepayers' meeting, held a few weeks ago, the school trustees decided to seize to the extent of what was owing in taxes, and the time will soon be up. We are informed that they are going to live up to their decision, and that no exception will be made. The school cannot be kept running without taxes, so it is the duty of all to pay.

Rev. Arthur Barner, of Calgary, will preach in the Methodist church here next Sunday evening, the occasion being the missionary anniversary.

POPULARITY OF THE BLAIRMORE BATTALION

Blairmore, May 9.—The popularity of the 192nd battalion has reached so far afield that two recently returned travellers from the Old Country, namely, Jack Huson, late of the Union Bank here, and J. Sloan, have signed on with the battalion. All their old friends wish them well in their new sphere, and Another interesting feature in connection with this examination is the fact that one of the students—Harry Gate—wrote his examination while confined in the hospital, and just after he had undergone a serious operation.

Naturally both instructor and students are elated over their success, and The Bulletin is sure the whole community joins in tendering sincerest congratulations.

The successful students were Messrs. John Johnson, Alex. McDicken, Harry Gate, M. Bowman and T. Jackson.

are sure they will play the game.

Two members of the 192nd from Frank recently passed the night in the town cooler, and as they were much refreshed after their experience, they were brought before the military tribunal on Wednesday morning to answer for the misdemeanour that necessitated their being kept under lock and key.

Service of a festival character was held in the Anglican church on Sunday evening, the Rev. H. Clay being the preacher. In spite of the inclement weather, and the epidemic that is visiting the town, there was a good congregation. Mr. Wm. Shaw rendered the solo "Calvary" in a most devotional way, and the anthem "Lo, in the Grave" was beautifully rendered as a quartette, unaccompanied. To those who were attending the church for the first time some considerable surprise was experienced to find that in a building of such limited dimensions so much had been accomplished in the way of furnishing, and so far as the future is concerned the prospects of the church in Blairmore seem most encouraging.

HILLCREST MINERS BUY BOOKS FOR LIBRARY

Hillcrest, May 9.—A good lantern lecture was given in the Union Hall at Hillcrest on Sunday evening by A. E. Ottowell, M. A. of Edmonton. The lecture was entitled "The First Year of the War." The speaker pointed out the advantages and disadvantages of the methods of attack used by the armies in

RUSSIANS IN HOSPITAL; STABBED BY AUSTRIAN

Local Representatives of Russia and Austria in a Little War All Their Own Substitute Rocks for Bullets and Knives for Bayonets—Russian in Hospital With Stab Over His Heart and Another Has Gash in His Shoulder.

As a result of a brawl which took place on Main street east on Monday evening shortly after ten o'clock between some of the foreigners, Harry Barhuj and Carl Scarba, both Russians, are now confined in the miners' hospital here. Barhuj has a knife wound in his chest just over the heart, while Scarba has a slash on the shoulder.

As the affair has not yet been sifted out in the police court, there is very little definite information available. The police arrested Paul Yasek, however, and a charge of having stabbed the man Barhuj was laid against him. He was remanded to Macleod for eight days pending the recovery of the wounded men, and the case will come up here, again, on the 16th inst. Yasek is an Austrian Pole.

Persons who saw something of the fuss, or heard the row from a distance say that both rocks and knives figured prominently in the melee, but no person seems to know the cause of the mix-up.

The mystery will no doubt be cleared up when the above case is called next week.

Europe. Mr. Keith ably introduced the lecturer. A collection was taken in aid of the Red Cross fund, which amounted to $12.30.

Pleased to mention that Mrs. J. Stubbs and baby girl are doing well. Mr. Stubbs is going around with a smile that won't rub off.

Mrs. J. Moorehouse, and the three little Moorehouses, are visiting her sister in Nordegg.

Mrs. C. Wollett has left camp and is now residing in Edmonton with relatives.

The lecture last Sunday evening was the last for the 1915-16 season.

In addition to the extension library at Hillcrest, the Union of Hillcrest miners donated a sum of money for books for the young minds of Hillcrest. Mr. Bradshaw, the librarian, will give books out on Wednesday of each week from 7 to 9 p. m.

The collection from the miners to pay the funeral expenses of Worsyl Lemituk amounted to $104.75. Mrs. Lemituk and two children should have the consideration of the relief commission at Macleod.

W. Williams offers musical recreation for his patrons. Play four ways to the tune of "Turkey in the Straw," or "Mid-Summer Night's Dream." Cut that rag-time out, professor.

SOLD BOOZE WITHOUT LICENSE IN BELLEVUE

Bellevue, May 9.—The Bellevue football team of C company, 192nd battalion, went to Coleman on Saturday and returned the victors by a score of 6 to 3.

Mrs. A. Beucey went to the hospital for treatment on Monday.

The house occupied by James Haddad is being improved by the erection of a verandah, the work being done by John Delfcate.

Rev. Amos of Blairmore, occupied the pulpit of the Bellevue church on Sunday last.

Mrs. William Patterson went to Lethbridge this week with her little daughter to consult a physician there concerning the little girl.

Saturday was pay day at the mine here, and things were very brisk as a consequence.

There are several cases of measles in camp just now.

James Watson, of Football fame, is in camp for a few days visiting Dave Morris.

Mr. Bounry moved his family and furniture down to his ranch at Burnis again this week.

Rev. Young, of Frank, will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church on Sunday, May 14.

Mrs. (Dr.) McKenzie, who has been on a trip to Calgary, returned home Tuesday.

One of the persons connected with the Southern hotel paid a fine on Wednesday for dispensing booze without a license, the fine and costs amounting to $34.40.

The soldiers' dance in the Workers' hall was not as well attended as it should have been. The certificates were presented to the first-aid class; also there was a presentation to Drs. Ross and McKenzie for their services as instructors of the ambulance class.

PRESBYTERIAN INDUCTION

The induction of Rev. D. K. Allan to the pastorate of the Coleman Presbyterian church will take place on Friday evening, May 10th. Rev. Wright, of Pincher Creek, will preside, and Dr. Ferguson, of Calgary, Rev. Chalmers, of Cowley, and Rev. Gray, of Blairmore, will be present. Refreshments will be served by the ladies during the evening.

Fernie Beck has joined the 13th C. M. R. as a bugler.

COLEMAN, ALBERTA, FRIDAY, MAY 12th, 1910

Editorial Comment

The statement is being given considerable prominence just now that the Canadian Northern railway is to be given a cash loan by the Dominion Government of ten million dollars to tide them over present financial difficulties. It is somewhat unfortunate that the Government, or the newspapers, or somebody, does not tell us why Canada should lend any money at all to these people, for many Canadians are at a loss to understand why the Dominion treasury should be opened to the railways any more than to any other commercial enterprise.

On the other hand, most of us can recall plenty of valid reasons why the transportation companies should be promptly "squelched" in their money-grabbing activities at Ottawa. Consider the case of the Canadian Northern:

The owners of the road—McKenzie & Mann—began their career as comparatively poor men. They built the C. N. R. on a shoe-string—plus about three hundred million dollars of the people's money—and have managed to squeeze themselves into the multi-millionaire class during the process. They do not invest their "own" money in the C. N. R. They have seemingly a strong preference for street railway franchises, fast horses, ammunition plants, etc. When a pinch comes they go pussy-footing around the corridors at Ottawa and by a scientific system of belly-aching endeavor to induce the Government to deliver up to them a bag-full of the people's money—and up to the hour of going to press both Liberal and Conservative Governments in their turn have proved to be easy marks.

But it is about time the people were awake to the fact that there are robbers in the offing. Every mile of railroad that has been built in Canada during the last fifty years has been liberally plastered with public cash. Compared with the cost of the C. N. R. or the G. T. P., ten million dollars is a modest sum, so much so that the proprietors of the C. N. R. should be able to dig it up themselves, even at the sacrifice of one of their street railway franchises.

It is a pretty safe bet that if either Calgary or Edmonton offered their street railway franchises for sale tomorrow, this same McKenzie & Mann outfit would gobble it up in double quick time—and find the cash to pay for it.

THE DOHERTY BILL

The Calgary Albertan has had a good deal to say lately in condemnation of the Doherty Bill recently adopted at Ottawa, which makes it illegal to import alcoholic liquors into any province, that has voted in favor of prohibition, for the purpose of violating the laws of such province. The Albertan argues that this Bill is in reality a joker—that as far as Alberta at least is concerned it simply means that alcoholic liquors cannot be imported for the purpose of operating blind pigs, or for the violation of the Alberta Liquor Act in any other respect.

But if the editor of the Albertan has read Hansard at all carefully he must realize that the Doherty Bill really gives to the dry provinces the opportunity to prohibit the importation of alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes, for it will apply to any prohibitory legislation the Province may enact in future just as well as it will apply to existing laws. It's entirely up to the Province to say whether the Doherty Bill shall be an aid to provincial prohibition.

CHURCH'S GROWING PAINS

The recent session of the Alberta Synod held in Medicine Hat devoted some time to the consideration of the problem of why the church does not appear to be making satisfactory progress at the present time. As was to be expected, several secular newspapers have assumed the task of trying to solve the problem and explain to the church just why it is "losing its punch," as one versatile editor describes it.

It must be patent to the careful observer, however, that the church is not losing its punch by any manner of means.

Many, many times since its inception has the church been compelled to readjust its perspective and adapt itself to changing conditions throughout the world, and it is now passing through a similar period of transition.

That is all.

And adequate re-adjustment will be accomplished by degrees just as proper alignment has been effected frequently during the last two thousand years.

The church is merely having its "growing pains."

Hits and Misses

Things to worry about: What would Canadian newspapers do for spicy copy if Sam Hughes should retire from public life?

"If your throat is husky, catarrh may be starting," reads the heading on a quack medicine advt. Possibly! But a lot of fellows we know would make a different diagnosis.

Sir Roger Casement wants to be hung with a rope made of silk. Presumably he wants the made-in-Germany kind at that.

There is a new American tango now called the "Wilson Wiggle." It goes something like this: One step forward, two steps backward, hesitate, then side-step.

A German surgeon was recently paid forty thousand dollars for operating on the sultan of Turkey. Any member of the 192nd would doubtless be willing to operate on that guy free of charge.

Uncle Sam is going to recall his "army" from Mexico in a leisurely manner, so the papers say. But if he doesn't get a hump on he may have to change his tune to "Rescue the Pershing" after all.

"New German Submarine Has No Periscope," read a headline in a daily the other day. And the same might be said of many of their old submarines thanks to the good marksmanship of the British gunners.

The Morning Albertan estimates that it costs $125 to doll up a Calgary girl in the prevailing spring styles, and backs up this statement with an embarrassingly detailed list (with the prices attached) of what ladies up there wear. My goodness! What inquisitive fellows those Calgary reporters must be.

Queen Marie of Roumania is a first cousin of the Kaiser; also first cousin to King George of England, the Russian czarina, the queen of Greece and the queen of Spain. And then those English newspapers keep on wondering why the leucie King Ferdinand doesn't say which side he sympathizes with in the world war. Poor Ferdy!

A fussy old gentleman down in Ottawa called Col. Carnegie seems inclined to be peevish because Sam Hughes received him in his usual brusque manner and passed him on to Col. Bertram. Those of us who know Sam Hughes, however, think Col. Carnegie was in luck when Sir Sam took the trouble to send him anywhere instead of politely telling him to go to the devil.

A 12-pound bottle-shaped high-explosive shell was found in the basement of a Calgary residence recently—at least the military authorities said it was a really honest-to-goodness twelve pounder. We are of the opinion, however, that the bright young man who edits the Round-Up Column of the Calgary Herald should have been consulted, as he appears to be an authority on bottles and their contents.

"Seven thousand printers have joined the British army since the outbreak of the war,"—London Cable.

"Let us hope they won't pi the line of battle,"—Saskatoon Starbeam.

"If they do, here's hoping they set 'em up again when they get home,"—Round Up Kolum Calgary Herald.

But in any case, gentlemen, they can be depended on to make "a firm impression" on the Germans.

During the recent session of the Alberta Legislature it was announced that the new Liquor Act would be enforced "right up to the hilt." Then the Government engaged the man who had more to do with the framing of the Act than anyone else (W. F. Gold, ex-secretary of the Alberta Temperance and Moral Reform League) to do the enforcing. And yet it is often said that Premier Sifton has no sense of humor. But we'll bet dollars to doughnuts that even Mr. Gold will see the point of the Government's little joke long before he gets Alberta "dry" with nothing more effective than the Liquor Act as a "baler."

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE WAS A REAL TREAT

Speaker Lifted Curtain From the Past and Revealed Something of Tremendous Difficulties Under Which the Early Missionaries Labored.

A good attendance at the St. Alban's parish hall on Tuesday evening, May 9th, heard Mrs. Sidney Houlton, of Calgary, deliver her lecture on the work of the Indian missions of the diocese. Numerous photographs were thrown upon the screen, and many quaint anecdotes related, which made the lecture brimful of sustained interest.

Mrs. Houlton described successively the work that has been done at the Peigan, Blood, Blackfoot and Sarcee reserves. Those present were able to realize vividly the growth of the work in christianizing the Indian.

In dealing with the history of the missions, photographs were shown of the men who first began the work, and one realized how difficult the task was which the early missionaries were faceted with. Many striking illustrations were given to prove how wonderfully that work had borne fruit in the lives and characters of the Indians.

Comparisons were shown between the former superstitions and the industrious and God-fearing lives which so many are living today. Children are being taught and cared for in well organized schools. Hospitals and churches have been built, where physical and spiritual ministrations are carefully given. Up-to-date methods of farming are taught by qualified instructors.

All this and more was learned from Mrs. Houlton's lecture. At its close the Rev. H. Clay briefly thanked Mrs. Houlton for coming to Coleman and delivering such a splendid lecture, and said that he hoped the result would be increased interest in the work of missions.

The Salvation Army

This week (commencing May 8th) is set apart this year by the Salvation Army as Self-Denial week. During that period a special effort is being made by the organization everywhere to collect funds, which are needed to carry on the missionary activities of the Army in all parts of the world.

The officers in charge of the work in The Pass are now making their rounds, and among the reasons offered by them as to why the people should help the Army on this occasion may be mentioned the following:

It gives help where needed irrespective of creed or nationality.

Its officers visit the poorest of the poor, and give relief.

Many thousands of homeless men, women and children are sheltered in its numerous homes.

In its orphanages many fatherless and motherless children are lovingly cared for.

Its motor ambulances, tents, and naval and military homes are a help to the service men.

WHAT PAPER COSTS.

Here are some of the increases in the prices of raw materials used in the manufacture of paper: Pulp, wires and general supplies, an average increase of at least 50 per cent; sulphite pulps, 200 to 250 per cent; alum, 300 per cent; rags from 50 to 400 per cent; bleaching powder, 1000 per cent, and sizing material over 100 per cent.

WAR IS CLOSING PRISONS

Twenty prisons have been closed in England since the war began. Over $500,000—the cost of their up-keep—has been saved the country. This remarkable showing, according to the London Times, is very largely due to the restrictions on the sale of liquor in the cities and munition areas.

A gentleman named Fred Cowman, of Cremona, Alta., donated a prize bull to the Patriotic Fund, the proceeds of its sale amounting to $272. It is hoped that, out of appreciation for the large sum realized for so worthy a cause, the editor of the Calgary Herald will refrain from using Fred's name, coupled with the nature of his gift, as a subject for a pun.

France has more dogs than any other country in Europe, says an exchange, its canine population reaching 3,000,000. Germany has 1,400,000, England 1,300,000, Sweden 513,000, Ireland 300,000—and Coleman appears to have all the rest.

Heavy peals of thunder were heard during a blinding snow storm in The Pass on April 29th. Truly this is a country of wonderful resources.

MONEY BACK DAY---WHAT IT MEANS

It means that the entire receipts for one day's sales during the month of May will be handed back to the persons who bought from us on that day. We have not decided what day in May will be "Money-Back Day" so will ask you to keep all counter slips for goods bought during the present month.

¶ On the First Day of June, the date of MONEY BACK DAY will be posted on the doors and windows of our store where all may see it. You can then look over your counter slips and bring in those bearing that date and we will refund the amount of the purchase in CASH.

¶ Goods bought on Credit and paid for by the end of the month will be considered exactly the same as if they had been paid for at the time of purchase.

¶ Does this announcement interest you? Is it clear to you? Suppose we should decide that Friday the 5th, or Thursday the 18th, or Wednesday the 31st should be MONEY-BACK DAY and on looking over your counter slips you find that on that day you bought a sack of Flour for $3.60, or a Suit of Clothes for $20.00, or a pair of Boots for $5.00, or any other article, you simply present the counter slip and we refund the amount you paid in on that date.

¶ This is advertising, and whatever we pay out by way of refund will be charged as such in expense account, but instead of paying the money for full page newspaper space we will for the month of May hand it back to the people who buy from us.

¶ You know that our goods are dependable, that our prices are at least as low as others, and that we give you good service, and you may perhaps be so fortunate as to have the amount of your purchase refunded. ¶ NOW, where will you buy what you may need during the month of May?
